As of January 18, 2021, Raining Berries, Sabre Advisors, Ferrandino & Son and LocateAI have announced a multi-layered partnership centered around inspiring and empowering the next generation, driving positive change in the world through a state of the art and socially conscious coffee and açai concept.

All parties share a common set of core principles - Innovation, Collaboration, and Authenticity.

They will use the above to foster a creative and strategic partnership for the brand. This partnership will enable us to locate, develop, and construct new signature stores, making Raining Berries a nationally recognized and household name.

Raining Berries, Sabre Advisors, Ferrandino & Son, and LocateAI are coming together with a shared respect for commitment and creativity. We believe that through innovation, we can change experiences and expectations in the coffee & açai industry.

"This is the partnership everyone hopes to find," says Bimal Bhojani, Founder of Raining Berries. "Raining Berries continues to push the boundaries of the coffee space. Our focus on people, stories, and growth paired with our direct commitments to socially conscious causes will allow us to expand our brand and continue to innovate the industry." With this shared vision, passion, and commitment, Sabre Advisors, Ferrandino & Son, LocateAI and Raining Berries are natural partners.
